TIME TO WAIT, WATCH, WORRY, WORK

State Floods at '4W' Stage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spring floods in Minnesota and the Dakotas have largely reached the waiting, watching, worrying and working stage.

In Minot, N.D., it was mostly a matter of work late Tuesday as officials struggled to move the last of 12,000 people—about one-third of the city's population—out of the flood-beleaguered city.

The worry that has been there since spring floods were first predicted eased just a bit Tuesday.

The reason was word that an ice jam on the Souris River in Canada has pushed back the timetable for that river's crest in Minot to April 25.

This gives flood fighters more time to complete evacuation of threatened areas and shore up dikes.

Residents of North Dakota and Minnesota received another bit of good word when the Small Business Administration said that loans will be made available to individuals and businesses hit by the flooding.

And Hilary Sandoval, SBA director, announced that he will arrive in the Twin Cities today for an aerial tour of the flooded areas.

As the new crest on the Souris was being prepared for, the Red River of the North—which divides Minnesota and North Dakota—was at the highest level of this century over much of its length.

However, dikes along the north-flowing stream were generally reported holding well and flood workers were mainly trying to make sure they continue that way.

At Fargo, N.D., the river was 20 feet over flood stage as workers continued to reinforce dikes and hope that the high waters will soon go down.

Across the river at Moorhead, Minn., classes were cancelled at Concordia College when flood waters backed up sewers and got into basements.

In Minnesota, the Mississippi and Minnesota Rivers were remaining fairly steady—but above flood stage at most points.

The Mississippi was holding Tuesday at 24½ feet at St. Paul, according to Joseph Strub, chief meteorologist for the Weather Bureau at the Twin Cities.

He predicted a crest of 25 feet early today at Hastings—that is 10 feet over flood stage.

Throughout the state, flood fighters were carefully watching dikes that have so far held back the worst of the floods. Other than repair work where dikes had weakened, it was largely a matter of hoping the rivers were on their way down.

Arab Guerrilla Groups Reject Hussein Plan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five Arab guerrilla organizations have rejected King Hussein's six-point Middle East peace proposal and renewed their demand for war against Israel.

The guerrillas, who long have sworn to fight until Israel is destroyed, rejected "each and every point" in the plan Hussein outlined in a speech in Washington last week. They also rejected all other plans for a political settlement with Israel.

The Jordanian monarch, who claimed to speak for President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt as well as for Jordan, called for Israel's withdrawal from Arab territory occupied during the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. His other points included a guarantee of the "territorial inviolability" of all Middle Eastern states, use of the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba by Israeli shipping, an end to Arab warfare against Israel and an equitable settlement of the claims of Arab refugees from Palestine.

Hussein said Sunday in New York that "a majority" of the Arabs, including the guerrillas, would accept a peace settlement negotiated on the basis of his six points. With many of the guerrillas now operating from bases in Jordan, and support for them increasing among the hundreds of thousands of refugees in Hussein's kingdom, the repudiation of his peace overture constituted a grave new threat to the young monarch.

Israel already had called on Hussein to make his proposals at face-to-face negotiations with the Israelis if he were serious.

Leaders of the five major Palestinian resistance groups held a secret meeting Monday and later issued a joint statement in Amman rejecting the king's proposal. They said they had agreed on a "unified course of action"—to send delegations to a number of Arab governments seeking clear definition of their attitude toward plans for a peaceful solution to the conflict.

Meanwhile, Israeli artillery returned the ground fire, and a spokesman said there were no Israeli casualties.

Cambodia to Resume Relations With U.S.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Cambodia's chief of state said today he would resume diplomatic relations with the United States now that the U.S. government has recognized Cambodia's frontiers.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk said charges d'affaires would be exchanged, a step short of exchanging ambassadors again.

"We thank the United States, President Nixon and the great American people for this gesture of equity and justice toward Cambodia," said the prince.

Sihanouk hedged this with an expression of hope that American maps soon would show disputed islands off the Cambodia coast as part of Cambodia and not Vietnam. "This is my only reservation for the future," he said, adding if this "rank error" persists, it would remove all value from the statement recognizing Cambodia's frontiers.

The Saigon government swung into line with its allies in Washington. The South Vietnamese said they were "ready to reconsider" their frontier problems with Cambodia, their neighbor on South Vietnam's southwest.

A communique from the South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry lauded the statement last Saturday in which the U.S. government said it recognized "the sovereignty, independence, neutrality and territorial integrity of the kingdom of Cambodia within its present frontiers."

The South Vietnamese statement did not go this far but said Saigon "is ready to reconsider the problem concerning the two countries and welcomes any suggestion suitable to the two countries' interest."

"The Republic of Vietnam," it continued, "advocates establishing diplomatic relations with free countries in the world and particularly with neighboring countries."

Relations between South Vietnam and Cambodia were broken off after Ngo Dinh Diem became president in 1955.

As the pace of the Vietnam war picked up, Cambodia accused U.S. and South Vietnamese forces of repeatedly violating its border.

Spotter Plane Makes Attack On Water Taxi

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Army spotter plane made a rocket attack on a sampan water taxi close to the Cambodian border Tuesday, and U.S. military spokesmen said eight Vietnamese civilians were killed and 11 wounded.

The U.S. Command said the presumably accidental attack was under investigation. It was the most serious such incident reported in nearly six months.

The crowded sampan was moving along a canal just off the Mekong River near Hong Ngu, about 90 miles west of Saigon and two to three miles from the Cambodian border. Officials said it was attacked by a single engine Army Ol Birdog, a spotter plane used for aerial observation and forward artillery control.

The plane apparently fired 2.75-inch rockets, which are used both for marking artillery targets and for attacking enemy positions.

AP photographer Henri Huet was told in Can Tho, where the wounded Vietnamese were taken, that no military operation was in progress in the area of the attack.

It was the most serious such attack since Nov. 2, when a U.S. Marine jet accidentally dropped a 500-pound bomb on a village southwest of Da Nang, killed 31 persons and wounded 72.

Elsewhere in the war, Viet Cong gunners bombarded at least 30 military bases and a few civilian population centers overnight as the enemy's spring offensive moved along in its eighth week.

Little ground action was reported. South Vietnamese headquarters said its forces killed 27 Viet Cong in two clashes in the Mekong Delta, with one government soldier killed and another wounded.

FLYER'S MOTHER:

Plane Was Just A Sitting Duck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Families of crewmen on the Navy plane reported downed by North Korea wait and wonder today.

"We always hope he will be found alive," said Chester Sundby of his son, Philip, 21, Sundby, a Seattle resident and father of a Quaker family added, "He's in the hands of the Lord now as far as we're concerned."

He said Philip enlisted over two years ago while still in high school.

"He realized like a lot of young fellows that he had to serve time in the service like the rest of us," said Sundby. "He felt the Navy was OK."

"I told my boy that when the time comes to be drafted, if he can conscientiously do this in light of what God says, I'll stand behind him 100 percent."

A call for action was sounded by Mrs. Geraldine Smith, wife of Communications Technician Chief Richard E. Smith. "We should let these people know they can't shoot down our planes," she said. "I feel WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced today all available evidence indicates North Korea shot down the Navy EC121 aircraft with its crew of 31.

The Pentagon said there apparently are no survivors.

Official confirmation of the shooting, heralded by North Korean broadcasts Tuesday, came in a straight-laced 3½-page statement that avoided any discussion of political or diplomatic ramifications.

"All evidence now available to us, including North Korean claims and debris sightings, leads us to believe that the aircraft was shot down by North Korean aircraft," the statement said.

The statement, read by Pentagon spokesman Daniel Z. Henkin, offered no other details on how the plane was destroyed, whether by aircraft cannon fire or plane-launched missile.

North Korean radio broadcasts monitored by Tokyo said the intelligence-gathering EC121 intruded North Korean air space. The Pentagon flatly denied it.

The Pentagon reported earlier a Soviet ship had recovered what it described as airplane parts but no survivors in the Sea of Japan 120 miles from the North Korean coast.

In its later statement, it amplified its contention the plane never entered North Korean airspace saying: "From a variety of sources, some of them sensitive, we are able to confirm that at all times during its mission the aircraft was far outside any claimed territorial air space of North Korea."

The Japanese Defense Agency said earlier today an American military radar in South Korea spotted a falling U.S. plane after it made contact with intercepting North Korean fighters.

The report said the plane was seen contacting the North Korean plane over the Sea of Japan about 150 miles southeast of Chongjin, a North Korean port.

Pentagon sources said the four-propeller, unarmed aircraft flying out of Atsugi, Japan, was monitoring North Korean radio messages and studying radar stations in its air defenses. Henkin called it a routine reconnaissance mission.

"Reconnaissance missions of this type have been flown for more than 20 years in the Sea of Japan," he said. "There was nothing unusual about this mission." But he gave no detail.

Henkin said the 300 mph craft, too slow to escape the supersonic MIG aircraft possessed by North Korea—was in communication with its base in Japan during the reconnaissance flight which began at 5 p.m. Monday, Korean time.

He disclosed that during the first three months of 1969, there were 190 similar flights conducted by U.S. aircraft in the general area off North Korea's coast.

Henkin's announcement was mainly a recount of the widespread search operation focused on an area about 85 to 100 nautical miles southeast of Chongjin.

In the earlier statement, the Pentagon also reported on the search efforts but said, "regrettably there is no report of any survivors."

"Direct communication has been established between one of the Soviet destroyer-type ships in the search area and a U.S. aircraft from Korea," it added. "The Soviet ship said in response to questions that it had not recovered or seen any survivors but that it had picked up what it reported to be aircraft parts."

The Pentagon said U.S. aircraft flew low over the Soviet ship and photographed the debris airmen reported appeared to be a wheel and a ladder.

Czechs Boycott Classes

PRAGUE (AP) — Agricultural students boycotted classes today to protest renewed censorship, official interference in sport and "strengthening of Soviet military forces in Czechoslovakia."

A strike proclamation also protested "the demonstration of military strength before an important party session." The strike was scheduled to run through Thursday, when the 190-member central committee of the communist party holds a crisis session.

The proclamation was posted briefly in Prague's central Wenceslas Square, but a policeman tore it down. Scores of passersby read the statement and one man pencilled a line under the demand in it for an election, postponed by the Soviet invasion last August.

No classes were meeting at the modernistic agricultural college outside Prague. About 300 students were printing posters and leaflets or holding meetings.

The strikers said they wanted "to prove to ourselves and the public that we are not yet morally dead."

Two Charged With Burglary At Lake City

WABASHA, Minn. (Special)—Two men, giving California addresses, are being held in Wabasha County jail on a charge of burglarizing a Lake City bar early Monday.

Arrested by Lake City police were Frank Wardell, 19, and Oscar Stone, 26. According to the Wabasha County sheriff's office the pair was apprehended by Lake City officers early Monday while on routine downtown patrol. They were arrested while allegedly in the premises of Freddy's Sportsmen's Bar.

Appearing before Judge Kenneth Kalbrenner, Wabasha municipal judge, Monday afternoon, the two were placed under $10,000 bond each. An attorney will be appointed by the court and they will reappear shortly for arraignment.

Also being held in jail is Gordon Lehnertz, 23, Kellogg, on a charge of auto theft. He is accused of taking a car owned by Dr. David Martin, Wabasha, from near his home Sunday night and abandoning it later in downtown Wabasha. Appearing before Judge Kalbrenner Monday, Lehnertz, bond was set at $5,000.

Jerry Krusemark, 25, Lake City, posted bail of $25 to guarantee his appearance on a disorderly conduct charge. He was arrested in connection with a fight in Millville Saturday.

William Kirtz, Lake City, forfeited $50 bond on a charge of careless driving. He was arrested April 2 by sheriff's officers on Highway 63, three miles southwest of Lake City.

Man Who Failed To Send Daughter To School Jailed

BRAINERD, Minn. (AP) — A former school teacher was sentenced to 30 days in jail Tuesday for failing to send his 8-year-old daughter to school.

However, the jail term for Roland Fischer, 32, was suspended on condition that he meet state standards for private schools if he continues to teach his daughter Rochelle.

Fischer was also told by Municipal Judge Darrell Sears that he must not be convicted within a year of a similar violation—or the sentence will be carried out.

A jury convicted the former Roseville, Minn., teacher last month under a state law that requires all 7- to 16-year-olds to attend either a public school or accredited private school.

Douglas Hall of Minneapolis, Fischer's attorney, said the matter will be appealed.

Fischer, now working as a potter, has been teaching his daughter since last fall in the cabin he has built near here.

Student Teacher Agreement OK'd With Conditions

Resolutions embodying an agreement with Winona State College for providing student teacher experience in schools of District 861 were approved conditionally Monday night by the School Board.

Similar to those in effect for a number of years, the agreement provides that the school district will offer the opportunity for student teachers at Winona State to work in a teaching-learning situation cooperatively with district certified teachers.

During the discussion of the proposed agreement, Dr. C. W. Rogers questioned whether some provision should be made specifically spelling out the board's right to accept or reject any prospective student teacher.

DR. ROGERS made reference to a situation in a state school district which recently found itself involved in litigation over its refusal to permit a student to practice teach in its schools.

Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson observed that in practice the administration actually does pass on acceptance of student teachers before placement in the system.

Board President Frank J. Allen said he thought this was a "matter of policy which shouldn't bother anyone" but agreed that perhaps such a clause should be written into the contract.

Nelson said that the suggested amendment would be made and discussed with college officials. The college pays up to $4 a quarter hour for each student placed in a classroom.

IN OTHER actions Monday night the board approved payrolls for homebound instructors amounting to $4,107; substitute teachers, $3,813; vocational-technical school substitutes, $180; evening high school credit courses, $765; work study program, $360; evening school instruction, $2,144; miscellaneous services, $1,191; cafeteria supervisors, $572; cafeteria helpers, $224; and custodial, delivery and instructional services, $286.

Also approved were overtime payments for custodians amounting to $564.

Mill City Youth Indicted on Murder Charge

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A 16-year-old youth has been indicted for first-degree murder in the shooting death last week of a city policeman.

David Simonson, Minneapolis, was also indicted for attempted burglary.

Patrolman David Bergquist and Frank Pipan were both killed in a gunfight. Witnesses testified before the Hennepin County Grand Jury that Pipan killed Bergquist before being shot himself.

Simonson is accused of being an accomplice of Pipan in the attempted burglary. As an accomplice, he would be equally liable under the law for any illegal acts committed.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sam Tompkins told the gunman who stopped him on a Jacksonville street that he had no money because he just left a doctor's office.

Maverick Goes On Sale Thursday

Maverick, the answer from Ford Motor Co. to the foreign encroachment on the American auto market, will go on sale Thursday at Towsley Ford in the Miracle Mall and in Ford dealerships throughout the nation.

It is projected that by the middle of this year, small car buyers will represent about 20 percent of the total auto market. In hope of keeping most of those buyers in U.S. ledgers, Ford has designed this two-door sedan of a modified fastback design.

THE pleasant price tag of $1,995 has prompted John Naughton, Ford Motor Co. vice president and Ford Division general manager, to call Maverick "the greatest automotive value ever offered in terms of price, upkeep and features included at no extra cost."

Taking a tip from the road racing circuit, Maverick has just a hint of an air spoiler of "ducktail" at the rear. Designed to carry a family of four with adequate luggage, it is powered by a six-cylinder engine of either of two sizes, 170 or 200 cubic inches which turn out 105 or 120 horsepower, respectively.

In normal city driving, the car can be expected to average in the 22 miles-per-gallon range. Transmission choices include a fully synchronized three-speed manual, a three-speed automatic with an optional shift-for-yourself feature or, for the first time, a new semi-automatic transmission.

In addition to the wider, longer, lower, shorter-turning radius advantages over its top foreign competitor, one of Maverick's

Would Curtail Financial Aid To Protesters

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A bill containing replies to protests from Gov. Warren P. Knowles was introduced in the state Senate Tuesday, calling for elimination of state financial assistance to campus protesters.

Knowles had vetoed a similar measure, saying it contained technical discrepancies and that it cited violations for which no statute exists.

NO EFFORT was made to override Knowles' veto. Instead, an altered version was drawn up, and was introduced as a new bill.

The newer measure says the financial restriction can be imposed against students convicted of breaking state or municipal laws, or of violating rules laid down by regents. The bill said financial aid could be withheld only after the affected student is allowed a hearing.

In other action: Senators approved an Assembly-adopted measure requiring the State Building Commission to report to the legislature on any construction project costing $50,000 or more. The vote was 10-11.

THEY VOTED to revoke a requirement for judicial approval of municipal annexation of an area greater than a square mile. The requirement was recently ruled unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court.

The Senate received a bill to appropriate $1 million for publicizing Wisconsin during the 1969-71 biennium.

Another new bill calls for a documentary tax of five cents per $100 value of property involved in real estate transfers.

Medium Priced Home Outlook Termed Bright

Prospects for building medium-priced houses in a Neighborhood Development Plan project are bright, the Housing and Redevelopment Authority was told Tuesday night.

One of the country's largest builders has shown interest in the idea of multiple "town house" dwellings, reported Robert L. Ferluga, urban renewal director. The homes would sell for from $15,000 to $17,500 and help meet the community's demand for medium-income housing, he said. Ferluga declined to identify the firms he said have inquired about the project.

BUILDERS probably would proceed under provisions of a Federal Housing Administration program allowing the use of unconventional methods and materials in the fabrication of approved housing eligible for FHA loans. These developers appear to prefer residential to commercial construction, according to Ferluga.

One firm plans to submit some tentative renderings of proposed dwelling units.

A preliminary report will be given to the City Council soon, Ferluga said. Meanwhile the NDP concept continues to be investigated.

Authority Vice-Chairman J. E. Krier asked how many units of housing might be provided. If the entire 4-block area — bounded by Walnut, Franklin, 3rd and 5th streets — were redeveloped as residential area, it could accommodate about 100 town house units, said Charles Dillerud, city planning coordinator.

ALL SUCH houses would be for sale to private owners, Dillerud said. They could be available to owners of moderate means under FHA plans that subsidize parts of the amortization payments in proportion to income, he indicated.

Tentative approval for further study of the NDP concept has been given by the council. Among the areas to be evaluated is the 4-block parcel previously described.

Ferluga told the authority that the application for Project No. 1, involving the downtown core area, is still under review by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. He said it is unlikely that any action on funding the project will come until after July 1, the beginning of the new federal fiscal year.

Payrolls in March Show Small Gain

March employment in Winona showed a slight gain over the February level, according to the monthly report of the Minnesota State Employment service here.

The payroll total for March was 11,683, compared with 11,672 for February, thus reversing a two-month downward trend. Temporary drops occurred in most categories, according to R. H. Brown, office manager, but these were offset by a 1.6 percent increase in manufacturing employment.

THE MARCH total is 39 greater than the 11,644 recorded for March 1968.

Losses of the winter months in manufacturing payrolls were partially regained as crew buildups in metal working and early recalls for paper and chemical workers were noted. Further modest gains in manufacturing are expected within the next 30 days.

Construction employment declined somewhat in March but held at 510, a higher figure than that of March, 1968. The forthcoming spring warmup and ending of highway load limits are expected to spark the usual seasonal recovery in this field.

Labor demand was strong with the greatest needs found in manufacturing and experienced stenographic and clerical fields.

The supply of labor remained low. Approximately 810 persons were registered for work at the Winona office. Of these, 310 were women. Most of the applicants are on temporary lay-off from regular seasonal work.

Following is a detailed list of mid-March employment statistics:

	Feb. 1969	March 1969	March 1968
Manufacturing	4,225	4,303	4,520
Wholesale trade	392	392	383
Retail trade	1,841	1,837	1,877

'One for Road' Gets Robber Into Trouble

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — That "one more for the road" has been known to get people in trouble, but in the case of Charles Potter, "it was crazy," say Hollywood detectives.

William Maynard told police he met Potter in a bar and after having a few drinks, his companion put a pistol between Maynard's eyes and said, "give me all your money."

Maynard said he handed over $86 and then suggested they have one more drink. When Potter headed for the men's room, Maynard headed for the nearest telephone, police said.

Potter was charged with armed robbery and carrying a concealed weapon.

City Warns on Contaminated Food, Water

City Health department officials today warned against public donations of prepared foods for distribution to dike workers.

Department Sanitarian Ted Schima said those wishing to give food should confine their gifts to less perishable items, such as candy bars, fruits, cold meats and the like. If sandwiches are to be distributed, they should be made up at a central point, Schima said. Ingredients may be contributed, subject to inspection at the time they are used, Schima added.

HEALTH authorities are concerned that previously prepared foods might be the cause of food poisoning, particularly if they cannot be properly refrigerated or heated while awaiting distribution.

Schima said sandwiches containing mayonnaise, for instance, would be especially vulnerable to temperature changes and could cause illness.

Red Cross and Salvation Army food distribution to dike volunteers was praised today by City Manager Carroll J. Fry. He said the organizations are more than adequately meeting the need.

A FURTHER health department warning was issued to homeowners with private water wells. If a basement collects seepage water, Schima said, the householder should assume his well is infiltrated and the water made unfit for use.

Persons with private wells can obtain pure water by calling the city health department or the Civil Defense information center. The center's telephone number is 3303. Another alternative would be to secure water from neighbors having city water connections, Schima said.

Once the flood emergency is past, private wells should be disinfected and tested for impurities, Schima said. He advised city residents that the health department is able to supply information and testing facilities.

SINCE FLOOD water often carries raw sewage and other contaminants, homeowners should use extreme caution in reclaiming foods from basements that have been flooded, Schima said.

Commercially canned foods may be salvaged if labels are removed and cans thoroughly washed. They then should be disinfected by wiping the entire outer surfaces with a mixture of water and laundry bleach. The ratio is one ounce of bleach to two gallons of water. This is followed by a clear water rinse.

Home canned foods require more care, Schima said. Each jar must be washed and disinfected, the same as commercially canned products. After the jar is cleaned, its contents should be boiled for 10 minutes before using, he said.

Buffalo Board Decides to Pay $1,400 Legal Bill

ALMA, Wis. — The Buffalo County Board of Supervisors Tuesday rescinded a resolution passed May 21, 1968, which in effect gave the purchasing committee the right to pay a bill from Randall Morey, Mondovi attorney, who appealed the case of an indigent to the Supreme Court.

The purchasing committee then authorized payment of the $1,400 claim.

The 1968 resolution said that all bills for attorney fees for indigents must be acted on by the entire board.

Ronald H. Ramer, Alma, appealed his sentence in Circuit Court to the Supreme Court, which upheld the lower court's conviction.

In February the board voted not to pay the claim for the appeal, and a writ of mandamus was filed against the treasurer for not paying it. His appearance in court was postponed until after this board meeting.

Knowles Approves Emergency Aid

Gov. Warren Knowles has approved an emergency proclamation authorizing aid to flood-stricken counties, including Buffalo, Trempealeau, Pepin, Pierce, Eau Claire, Dunn, Chippewa, Crawford, La Crosse, Vernon and Grant counties.

Cong. Vernon Thomson says that communities in these counties already have spent $310,500 in preparing for flooding.

92 Leases Signed in Valley View

Thirty-nine Valley View Tower apartments are occupied and another 53 leases have been signed, the Housing and Redevelopment Authority learned Tuesday night.

The low-income housing apartment building has 130 dwelling units. Ten additional applications are being processed; 20 were disqualified and, 10 declined to take advantage of the apartments.

It is operated by the authority for persons of limited income who are more than 62 years old.

In his report to the authority, George E. Mayer, executive director, recommended that no further public housing projects be considered for the time being. Until the new building has been filled, adjustments are made at other projects and a file of new applicants has been built up, the community probably cannot justify requests for other federally funded projects, Mayer said.

Mayer's recommendation was in connection with a request from the Department of Housing and Urban Development for estimates of needs in fiscal 1970. He said he will ask for additional data from city planners.

Friends may call at Buckman-Schier's Funeral Home Thursday afternoon and evening and before the services Friday.

61 Still Open Near Lake City

Highway 35 is officially closed to through traffic from Winona northerly some 10 miles to the junction with the Gilmanton road, Highway 88 above Fountain City.

That's the only additional highway closing in the flooded area. HIGHWAY 26 south from Highway 16 junction at La Crosse toward Brownsville, was closed earlier this week.

The La Crosse office of the Wisconsin Department of Highways first barricaded a section of HIGHWAY 35 between the Waumandee Creek bridge and the old entrance to Merrick State Park at 8 a.m. today. One result was the closing of the Cochrane-Fountain City school.

The section near the Midway tavern still was open to one-

Green Bay Stops Service in City

Green Bay & Western Railroad completely suspended all operations in Winona this morning until further notice. Trains are still running as far west as Arcadia, Wis., however.

Officials said no freight traffic would be moved until flood conditions abated. The railroad uses a portion of Burlington Railroad track as a cross-over two miles east of Winona Junction and this has been closed because of high water reaching the ballast below the track.

The BURLINGTON continues limited freight service to and way traffic this morning but it had been closed by noon. Four men are patrolling the closed areas around the clock and will continue to do so until the water has fallen.

The river wasn't across HIGHWAY 61 yet above Lake City and below at Miller Creek and by Maple Springs, where dikes were under construction.

Highway 61 below Wabasha also was clear of water at noon, where traffic was stopped in 1965.

The new diking along the upper side of the interstate bridge at Nelson was holding, Wisconsin engineers said.

The interstate bridge at RED WING was closed at 10 a.m. because low land on the Wisconsin side is under water.

Valley Route For 43 Gets Planner Nod

An East Burns Valley corridor for Highway 43, between Winona and Wilson, was favored this morning by the Winona County Planning Commission, meeting in regular session at the courthouse.

Commission members planned to attend a public hearing this afternoon at the YMCA on proposed routes for the 4lane divided highway segment proposed by the State Department of Highways.

THE COMMISSION acted after hearing recommendations from its planning consultant, Charles Wittenberg, of the firm of Nason, Wehrman, Chapman & Knight, Minneapolis.

Only a few farmsteads would be affected by the easterly route, Wittenberg said. On the other hand, if the highway were routed through West Burns Valley, near its present course, a number of homes would be adversely affected, he said.

The East Burns Valley route would incorporate right of way of the present County Road 105. The third alternate is a route

Small Breakouts Plague Crews; Final Test Near

By FRANK UHLIG
Daily News Staff Writer

Patrolling and maintaining Winona's dikes on a 24-hour basis, city flood fighters isolated several small breakouts Tuesday night and this morning and waited for the final test, the predicted 19-foot crest due here Saturday.

Today's river reading was 18.4 feet, a rise of .8 of a foot. The prospect of a higher crest forecast appears to have faded for the time being. Joseph H. Strub Jr., Weather Bureau forecaster, has not changed his prediction of 18.7 feet for Thursday, 18.9 feet Friday and 19 feet Saturday.

MOST OF THE trouble that has arisen has been in the Bay State Milling Co. area. Here sandboils have erupted several times, requiring emergency crews to build containing chimneys in which the water is able to rise to the level of the river outside the dikes.

One such boil developed Tuesday about 4 p.m. at Hamilton and Front streets. Mayor Norman E. Indall asked and received assurance from the Milwaukee Railroad that switching on its Front Street tracks in that area would be discontinued.

Another outburst occurred about 5 a.m. today along railroad tracks near the Bay State plant. Several freight cars had to be moved so that a chimney could be built to hold the water.

Many of the sandbag crews are composed of students from local schools. City Manager Carroll J. Fry praised their response to calls for volunteers today, likening them to "a bunch of fire horses; when the call comes in, they're eager to go and nobody hangs back; they're doing a fine job."

Fry said railroads now are clearing their switch yards of unnecessary cars to give greater freedom of movement to emergency crews.

AN ADDITIONAL 60 loads of earth fill were hauled to reinforce the Washington Street closure of Chicago & North Western tracks Tuesday. The opening had been stopped up by sandbag barriers but the clay material was added to make sure that rising water pressure could not breach the closure.

An unpublishized contribution to the flood fight was made Monday night by a former City Council member, Robert Von Rohr, 1606 Edgewood Rd., according to City Engineer Robert J. Bollant.

Von Rohr answered a call for volunteer divers and installed an inflatable dunnage bag in the outlet of a storm sewer at Levee Park, Bollant said. A previously placed bag had malfunctioned and had to be replaced.

CD Phone 3303

Telephone number for the Civil Defense Information center at City Hall is 3303, not 3306 as reported Tuesday.

The number is for use by anyone having questions concerning flood emergency information. The information center is being manned by volunteers around the clock for the duration of the flood emergency.

Hong Kong Lashed By Tropical Squalls

HONG KONG (AP) —Violent thunderstorms and tropical squalls dumped more than four inches of rain on Hong Kong Tuesday and early Wednesday, injuring two youths, collapsing one wall, touching off minor landslides, and diverting at least nine international flights to Manila, Tokyo and Taipei.

following ridges between the two valleys. All three converge at Winona at about the present point of intersection with the city limits.

LAND USE problems would be few on the East Burns corridor, Wittenberg said. He recommended also that the commission classify the valley as a scenic area. This would prevent any commercial development in the valley and would provide a highly attractive entrance to the city, he told commissioners.

Wittenberg said the present route of Highway 43, in West Burns Valley, would make a good county highway, taking present development into account.

Rate 4.29% On Tower Bond Issue

Eight bids were received last week for temporary notes totaling $1,960,000, issued by the Housing and Redevelopment Authority of Winona.

The amount covers costs of construction and initial equipment of Valley View Tower, the authority's new apartment project for low-income elderly persons. Rental income from the facility, plus federal contributions, are used to retire the indebtedness and new notes are issued periodically — usually each year — for the reduced amounts.

Low bidder, according to George E. Mayer, executive director, was Northern Trust Co., Chicago, which offered a 4.29 percent interest rate and cash premium of $28.

Next low was the Bank of America, San Francisco, Calif., at 4.43 percent and $57 premium. Third was a combination of the Northwest National Bank, Minneapolis, and First National Bank, Winona, which offered 4.45 percent for the first $500,000, 4.50 percent for the next $500,000 and 4.55 percent for the final $960,000.

Other bidders were: Pittsburgh, Pa., National Bank, 4.66 percent and $72 premium; Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, 4.74 percent and $69 premium; Continental Illinois Bank & Trust Co., Chicago, 4.77 percent and $45 premium; and Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., New York, 4.81 percent and $49 premium.

Students Support State Parimutuel

Bills legalizing parimutuel betting in Minnesota, lowering the age for use of alcoholic beverages to 18 and for voting to 19 were among those adopted by Winona Senior High School and Coter High School students participating in Tuesday's annual mock legislature session at Senior High School.

Sponsored by the Winona Jaycees with the cooperation of the social studies departments at the two schools, the event involved some 100 students in an exercise in legislative procedures.

DAN TRAINER JR., who as a Jaycee several years ago was instrumental in organizing the annual spring program, served as speaker of the house.

Mark Allen, Senior High School, served as majority leader and Joe Richardson, Coter, was minority leader.

The session was convened at 2:10 p.m. and the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to committee meetings and committee chairman reports.

Following the dinner at the high school action was taken on bills reported out of committee and the session ended with a general evaluation and comments.

PRINCIPAL speaker at the banquet was Dr. Eugene V. Schoener, Winona County DFL chairman, who discussed fac-tor's involved in social organization.

He noted that man is influenced naturally by aggressive instincts, that there is a tendency to organize in groups, each defending its own rights, but that man must rise above his animalistic instincts and turn to reason if a successful social organization is to be effected.

State Sen. Roger Laufenburger, Lewiston, Minn., and Rep. Frank Theis, Winona, both took time off from their duties at the current session of the state legislature to attend the program.

Laufenburger discussed various measures introduced by students at the mock legislature which are similar to those now being considered by the state legislature and complimented the group on their awareness of current issues.

THEIS SPOKE specifically about measures now before the legislature dealing with various aids for non-public education. He commented on the status of such bills as those providing for transportation for non-public school children, tuition reimbursement for parents of children attending church-related schools and aids for school systems participating in a shared time or dual-time program.

Kurt Reinhard, Winona Jaycees president, addressed students and guests at the program summation.

THERE WERE 31 bills introduced and considered in committee.

The parimutuel betting bill was finally approved provided that revenues be used to finance education in the state.

A bill originally introduced would have provided for an extension of the state sales tax to food, clothes and drugs with each taxpayer to be allowed a $25 income tax credit for each dependent.

As amended and finally approved, the bill would establish a commuter tax to be levied against persons living outside the Twin Cities area and working in Minneapolis or St. Paul.

One bill that sparked debate and eventually failed of passage would specify that all new internal combustion engines sold after next Jan. 1 must have an approved device for keeping the air pollution factor within prescribed limits.

JOHN NETT, chairman of the social studies department at Coter, and Norman Indall, chairman, and Harry P. McGrath of the Senior High social studies faculty were advisers for the program.

General chairman in charge of arrangements for the Jaycees was David Moracco.

Committee OKs Bill to Raise Off-Sale Fees

ST. PAUL (AP)—The Senate Liquor Committee today approved a bill which doubles the maximum fee which most communities may charge for off-sale licenses.

The bill, authored by Sen. Walter Franz, Mountain Lake, would hike the maximum off-sale fee in cities of first class, meaning the Twin Cities and Duluth, from a $1,000 ceiling to no limit; in other cities over 10,000 population, the top fee would go from $200 to $400; 5,000 to 10,000, from $150 to $300, and 5,000 population or less, $100 to $200.

The measure hikes the fee for bottle clubs in all but cities of the first class from a flat $100 to at least $100 and not more than $500 a year, as determined by the municipality.

The bill also provides the state liquor control commissioner, in addition to local authorities, shall have power to approve bottle club licenses in all but cities of the first class.

Former Osseo Resident Killed

OSSEO, Wis. (Special)—Louis Nestegard, 42, Eau Claire, a former Osseo resident, died of a skull fracture and broken neck received in a one-car accident today between 12:30 and 1 a.m. on Highway 53, 4 of a mile south of Foster, Wis., Eau Claire County. Foster is 13 miles south of Eau Claire.

Officers said he had been visiting friends in Osseo and was en route home.

The Eau Claire County deputy said that Nestegard was going north toward Eau Claire and attempting to negotiate a slight left curve, his 1963 station wagon shot off the east right shoulder of the highway, traveled about 255 feet on the shoulder and hit a guard rail at a bridge at Otter Creek, striking the post with the left front.

The vehicle swung across the creek bed on the same side of the road, struck a concrete wing wall and bounced back. It wound up on its top about 14 feet from the east side of the roadway.

Nestegard, a chef at an Eau Claire restaurant, was pronounced dead at the scene by the Eau Claire County coroner. The car was a total loss.

3,000 Years Of Growth—The Want Ad

DURING THIS WEEK, the Winona Daily News and newspapers throughout the United States and in other countries around the world are paying a bit of homage to a communications media that apparently had its origin on a piece of papyrus in the Middle East some 3,000 years ago.

This form of communication, however, has been adopted by newspapers everywhere since the printed word mass medium during and after the 17th century. The occasion is International Want Ad Week.

The history of want ads is almost as fascinating as is the history of newspapers — the world's first mass generally recognized by the public as the principal and dependable medium through which people are kept informed about other people and events everywhere.

THE EARLIEST want ad known to man was printed by hand on a piece of papyrus that was posted on a building portal for the passing people to see. In it a wealthy man offered a reward for information about a missing slave.

Centuries elapsed between that early "Want Ad" and the first newspaper. It was only natural, however, that when newspapers began to appear as a respected medium of information, of communications between the masses, the want ad should adopt this medium and that newspapers should adopt the want ad — that little informal message of "a hundred uses" — as their very own.

In the earlier days, want ads were family or individual devices, used largely to sell or buy household items, real estate or the strange or rare; to find lost or stolen items, or to restore to rightful owners articles that had been found.

SINCE WANT ADS were economical, and at the same time proved fast and efficient in accomplishing their missions, it was only natural their usage should find favor in the business world, where cost, efficiency and dispatch are prime considerations.

The commercial use of want ads, by every kind of business, has continued to expand. The "family" and individual want ad has kept pace with this growth. The informality and ease of preparation, plus relatively low cost and mass appeal have resulted in the want ad pages of the newspaper being termed "the nation's market place."

THE WINONA DAILY NEWS is proud of the major role our want ads play in the progress of our community. We are grateful to the patrons and the readers who keep our want ad section a living and growing part of our publication.

Restore Lakes To Cut Floods

DRAINING LAKES makes floods. How about restoring them?

Frank Callister, Kenyon Leader, suggests this answer to Minnesota's question of the hour.

Callister takes his anti-flood cue from a new Conservation Department "Inventory of Minnesota Lakes" which shows that, of 15,291 lake basins in the state, 3,257 are either dry or partly dry.

"Nearly 90 percent of the dry lakes result from the installation of artificial drainage," Callister notes.

For example, Blue Earth County, home of flood-besieged Mankato. Of 133 lakes listed, 103 are dry.

"Only 30 remain to fulfill their natural function as storage basins for run-off water and habitat for fish, waterfowl and fur-bearing animals."

CALLISTER GIVES other examples: Brown County, 79 of 99 lakes dry; Steele County, 32 of 37 lakes drained; Roseau County, two of three lakes drained — and think of those Red River floods!

Furthermore, Callister points out, the state listing includes only lakes of 10 acres or more and "gives no statistics on the number of smaller lakes and marshes which have been ditched or tiled out."

Callister concludes:

"Many conservationists feel that the way to stop mainstem floods is to hold the water on the land in lakes and other natural depressions, allowing it to seep slowly into the ground replenishing the water table, rather than rushing it off as quickly as possible into already over-full rivers.

"A PROGRAM TO restore some of these lost lakes and marshes would seem a far less costly and more practical response than the large dams advocated so ardently by the U.S. Corps of Engineers."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

An unimaginative ad manager for a giant dog food combine has just rejected what strikes me as a brilliant and irresistible conception. It's a portrait of a charming lady holding a can of the dog food with a great big dog standing behind her with a paw on her shoulder. The caption reads, "This broad is the ugliest looking dog I ever seen."

A WORD EDGEWISE

Many Meetings, No Decisions

BY JOHN P. ROCHE

About a month ago it was suggested in this column that President Nixon was the first quarterback in history who had substituted a huddle for a kickoff, that so far the decision-making process had been highlighted by an infinite series of meetings — and no decisions. It can be fairly stated that since that column was written nothing significant has happened to alter the evaluation. True, the Administration did come out of the huddle and start to run a play on the ABM (anti-ballistic missile), but the whistles blew and with both Senator Fulbright and Secretary of Defense Laird off side, the ball was returned to the line of scrimmage.

With time out for President Eisenhower's funeral, the team has been huddling ever since. It has now reached the point where before meetings are held on what many of us consider vital topics (Vietnam, poverty, ABM) an announcement is made that nothing of importance will be decided. This is convenient for the press, which does not have to hang around Key Biscayne wondering what spectacular project the President has in mind, and doubtless the White House correspondents are grateful. They are still recovering from a President on 220 volts who was likely to spring a major announcement on his way to church at 7:30 Sunday morning, or at 4 p.m. on July 4th, when all rational men were home in the pool or off to the beach with their families.

LYNDON JOHNSON infuriated the press by his unstructured habits and they, in return, invented the "credibility gap." Admittedly, the President played into their hands by talking as freely as he did and those in search of contradictions could generally find useful quotes. President Nixon, in careful contrast, has handled them like pedigreed Siamese cats and there is no denying that, so far, the technique has paid off. Can one imagine, for example, the howls if Johnson had told the press he was operating in secret with regard to the Paris talks and therefore no one in the government would give them a straight answer on the subject?

President Nixon pulled it off. Indeed, he even drew praise for his frankness and statesmanship. But with all appropriate discounting of partisan bias, I wonder how long he can get away with it. His latest move was to appoint a high-level commission to examine the efficiency of the Executive branch. Again, instead of playing ball, the team is experimenting with backfield formations. There is talk of reorganizing the Agency for International Development (A.I.D.) into a public corporation — as if that would hide it from the attention of Congressional appropriation committees. In short, the boys with the alphabet blocks are running all over Washington planning new combinations of H.E.W., H.U.D., O.E.O., etc., and behind the smokescreen thrown up by the reorganizers nothing is happening.

TAKE THE defense of the ABM as a case in point. Secretary of State Rogers, cooing like a dove, explained to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that ABM was, in essence, a chip in the game with the Soviets. If the Russians would drop their defensive system, he indicated, we would be delighted to forget "Sentinel," "Safeguard" or whatever new name the ABM might pick up.

Nixon Foreign Policy Leadership Being Accepted

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON — Against all the laws of probability, the evidence is mounting that President Nixon's foreign policy leadership is becoming more acceptable in Europe — of all places — than here at home in Congress.

Mr. Nixon's handling of the annual meeting here of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, a vigorously commonsensical rally held on the eve of the 25th anniversary of the Allied D-Day landings in Nazi-occupied France, has been nothing short of a quiet triumph. If NATO is not yet what it ought to be, in terms of military force goals never yet achieved, it is at all events clearly a revived instrumentality now.

And, perhaps more important in the immediate sense, the headship over NATO of Richard Nixon may now be said to have become conceded in human fact as well as in inescapable form and protocol — inescapable because the United States is after all both the head and muscle of the enterprise.

THE PRESIDENT'S recent visit to Western Europe may well have had something to do with his result. What is beyond doubt is that his address to the NATO partners had much more to do with it.

First, he managed to reassure the smaller allies that he really intended to keep in the closest of touch with them on all great issues. To be sure, no American President has ever in fact done otherwise; but some of the other fellows have sometimes thought so. The gain here is thus mainly psychological; but then psychology in these matters is important, too.

Secondly, the President offered a firm impression of a man fully prepared to use military sanctions against communist military expansionism should sanctions be required, but ready, too, to talk business with the Russians if and as they themselves are prepared to do so.

Still, the real diplomatic victory here lay in more tangible things. Laid to rest among the leaders of Western Europe, for good and all so far as they are concerned, were all the old European notions of Mr. Nixon as a kind of habitual tough guy, a professional bellicose anti-communist likely to react from his glands to the subtleties of the Cold War.

IT IS perhaps not too much to say that Europe's leaders are now ready genuinely to trust Richard Nixon in the various probes toward possible accommodations with the Soviet Union which the Administration is so gingerly preparing.

There is high irony in all this, not simply because Richard Nixon not long ago was only a venomous caricature in much of Europe but also because of the odd parallel it raises with the man who, of all his recent predecessors, was least like him in the popular mind. For John F. Kennedy, too, was in his foreign policy more accepted in Europe than here at home — and who would normally bracket John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon?

And while the current White House itself sees the irony of it all, it also must face the harsh reality that Mr. Nixon is in hard times in the American Congress precisely while he is at last having his way in the congress of Europe that is NATO. It would be strange indeed if he should prevail in the latter — the very core only yesterday of what might be called anti-Nixonism — and fail in the former.

NO SUCH eventuality is probable. It is, however, clearly possible. For the Nixon Administration is being tirelessly pounded by the Senate doves — not all of whom are Democrats — to make concessions in Vietnam that would in plain truth amount to appeasement, and ugly tales are being spread that perhaps the White House will yet be persuaded to give away the game here in order to "save" the anti-ballistic missile program.

The President's actions do not, of course, support any such melodrama. His diplomatic appointments continue, where they really count, to indicate the exact reverse. Still, the Administration's domestic position is now as parlous as its European position is firm. And this is the measure of the greatest problem now lying on the White House plate.

Lindsay Now In Deep Trouble

By WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY Jr.

Robert Wagner's decision to seek re-election as mayor of New York has made Lindsay forces very very gloomy because it is just possible as it now stands that no New York political party, not the Democrats, not the Liberals, not the Republicans, not the Conservatives—will endorse Lindsay. Handling an incumbent that way, particularly an incumbent who has always fancied himself as presidentabili, is a most serious setback even to a modest vanity, which is less vanity than Mr. Lindsay possesses. Consider the situation at this writing:

Mr. Lindsay's problems with the Republican Party are organic. They stem from a deep-rooted ideological incompatibility. John Lindsay's view of political affairs has always been the view of a left-Democrat. (His ADA rating while in Congress was in the 80's). There have been left-Democrats who have been re-elected triumphantly as mayor of New York, Robert Wagner being the best recent example of the breed; but they have been left-Democrats who, in the crunch, have taken ideology rather less seriously than Mr. Lindsay has; men of affairs.

ROBERT WAGNER did a lot, over the period of twelve years that he was mayor, to water the seeds of New York's difficulties — crime, drugs, miseducation, union power, overspending. But one always had the feeling with Wagner that the city was getting worse year after year only because things were getting bad all over. To blame Wagner for it — the general public tended to think — was somehow unfair, rather like blaming City Hall for summer heat and seasonal drought.

Lindsay's tenuous hold over the Republican Party is illustrated by the exigent support he has gotten from New York City elected Republicans: There are twenty-five of these, and three-quarters of them have already declared their support of the insurgent, Senator John Marchi. Only a single Republican official, incredibly, has come out for Lindsay; not, to be sure, counting himself.

In the various boroughs it breaks down roughly as follows. Queens has (the figures are rounded) 210,000 registered Republicans. The Marchi slate has been endorsed by the six elected state officials. These represent districts containing 50% of the Queens County Republican enrollment and 20% of the total city enrollment.

Brooklyn has 165,000 Republicans, the bulk of whom live in areas represented by Republicans. Every elected Republican in Brooklyn has endorsed the Marchi ticket excepting Vito Battista, who has endorsed himself.

IN NEW YORK (Manhattan), Lindsay is strong with the 130,000 Republicans. However, there is an anti-Lindsay conservative tide running, as witness the defeat a year ago by Conservative Peter Hognet of Herbert Brownell Jr., the Prince of Wales of Manhattan Republicanism.

Staten Island has only 33,000 Republicans but, of course, they are overwhelmingly for Marchi, the favorite son.

Now Mr. Wagner will in fact not have altogether clear sailing. Among his opponents there is one (Mr. Carey) who will cut deeply into the Irish Catholic support Wagner has traditionally had; another (Mr. Proccaccio) who will cut into the Italian support; and a third (Mr. Scheuer) who will appeal to the Jewish vote. Worse still, the borough leaders are, many of them, as anti-Wagner as they were in 1961 when Wagner turned against Tammany Hall. Wagner beat them then triumphantly, but he ran as an incumbent. Now he comes in from what may prove to have been a castle in Spain.

Still, Wagner is a formidable campaigner and an old-time droonhound. He will of course bid for the support of the Liberal Party, and it is widely assumed that Mr. Alex Rose, who is still strong in the Liberal Party, persuaded Wagner to come in and save the city from Rose's previous infatuation, Mr. Lindsay.

Boyfriend Drives— Takes Pills

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My boy friend is 29 and is a long-distance truck driver and mover. He is a heavy smoker and also drinks.

He takes these pills, ben-nies, a pep pill, and I tell him it is bad for his blood and system. Please tell me something about this pill and its after effects, if any. — N.C.

He certainly knows he shouldn't drink and drive.

He probably is just as aware that he shouldn't use "ben-nies," either, whether driving or not — but especially not when driving.

They are a form of amphetamine, a powerful stimulant, and according to law, should be dispensed only on prescription.

But this law, like so many laws, is violated by people who can't seem to get it through their heads that there is a reason for such laws.

The amphetamines, first of all, do provide some false "pep." Continued use can lead to jittery, nervousness, and ultimately expenditure of so much of a person's energy that he can even collapse.

It's a dangerous practice. People take bootleg "ben-nies" to stay awake, often then have to take sedatives in order to sleep. This vicious circle has caused a great deal of human destruction.

But people still do it. They try it once, or twice, or a number of times, and get away with it. But familiarity breeds contempt. Then one day they realize that they have taken too much of these powerful drugs.

Federal officials, not to mention local police, are well aware of the danger. To give you a few instances that are on record, some drivers have taken such overdoses that they began having hallucinations. One driver thought bandits were on the roof of his cab, and went roaring through a town firing a pistol at the "bandits" who didn't exist. He wrecked his truck but fortunately didn't kill anyone. But there have been other horrible wrecks; induced by these drugs, that have killed several in a single accident.

The danger is so great that the authorities even search trucks to find contraband pills.

The principal reason the pills are used by drivers is, of course, to stay awake on long trips. It is a very dangerous thing to do. Getting enough sleep is the only sensible way. In fact, the laws prohibit driving a truck for more than a certain length of time without getting adequate time to rest.

Yet drivers still take these chances, and ever so often somebody winds up dead or crippled.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Many of my friends say that a certain brand of cigarettes can make a person sterile. Is there any truth to this at all? — D.C.

No truth at all; but that doesn't change a particle of my warnings about other dangers in cigarette smoking.

say are not, then, so very bright. In this respect he perfectly symbolizes New York City.

Report Information Chief Trying to Close 'Credibility Gap'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Society of Newspaper Editors was told today "some barriers have been made in news reporting at the federal government level," and that President Nixon's information chief "is trying to close the credibility gap in Washington."

But the ASNE's Freedom of Information Committee cautioned in its annual report to the 500 editors attending the opening session of the Society's convention that "It's too early to predict the eventual results. There are vast areas of government secrecy that must be challenged."

The report was among the first items of business, which also included a panel discussion on President Nixon's first 100 days in office and a luncheon speech by Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

The FOI committee also reported progress in developing "voluntary, cooperative understandings at the state level among the press, bench, and bar regarding the reporting of criminal proceedings."

In this field too, however, the panel suggested, things could change should the American Bar Association's House of Delegates, which meets in August, adopt the proposed Code of Professional Responsibility. The committee cautioned against "a letdown in efforts to achieve voluntary understandings."

The committee passed on to the ASNE a report by Samuel J. Archibald, of the Washington office of the University of Missouri's Freedom of Information Center, in its assessment of the Nixon administration's information policies.

Discussing the performance of Herbert G. Klein, former newspaperman who is now director of communications for the executive branch, Archibald said:

"Herb Klein is the most qualified man ever put in the federal government's top information post. Not since the role of presidential press secretary was created by Franklin Delano Roosevelt have any of the federal government's top publicity men had the administrative muscle that Herb Klein does. On information matters, he speaks with the voice of the President."

"Although it is too soon to guess whether Herb Klein's information program will work—or even whether he will be able to stick to it when the politicians and the bureaucrats get together to cover up the inevitable governmental bumbles—his first moves prove that he is trying to close the credibility gap in Washington."

Richard M. Schmidt Jr., the new ASNE counsel, called Klein "the brightest hope available to all reporters" in improving the accessibility of information.

Noting President Nixon's announced intention to curtail sharply the use of executive privilege in withholding information, Schmidt said the problem is as yet untested—and "appears to me to be an area where ASNE must continue to move forward."

The FOI committee urged efforts "to work on those local or state barriers which have a national pattern," such as "the nationwide effort to have secret negotiations between school boards and teachers on such matters as salaries and curriculum."

Another challenge, the panel said, "at the very roots of the journalism profession, is the need to encourage careful, penetrating reporting and vigorous, imaginative direction by editors—a combination that few news barriers can withstand."

The committee was hardest on military information policies, concluding:

"The military continues as a major problem, not only in information from the combat areas, but also in the frustrating practice of having announcements on purely military matters come from politicians. "These are matters which do not involve security dangers, but on which military officials have been reluctant to speak. The reason? Perhaps antiquated regulations. Perhaps an effort to politic with the politicians who pass on military budgets."

Reporting progress in the state-level adoption of voluntary understandings to govern the publication of pre-trial news, the committee noted that in two instances where especially rigorous rules were imposed by judges—in the trials of James Earl Ray and Sirhan B. Sirhan—diligent reporters were able to give their readers full information.

But the panel warned that the examples set in the Ray and Sirhan cases "could be catching"—more and more judges have indicated they might issue similar restrictive orders if they encounter the "big case." Under many situations this could deprive the public of information it is entitled to have."

The committee said one of its major challenges in the year to come will be "what moves to make against congressional secrecy."

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch, and consumer advocate Ralph Nader will address the editors Thursday and Friday.

KNOWLES ISSUES EMERGENCY PROCLAMATION

River Cities Hope to Get Extra Manpower

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An emergency flood proclamation for Wisconsin cities along the Mississippi River was greeted Tuesday by exhausted levee builders with a sigh of relief.

Mayor Warren Loveland of La Crosse said the proclamation from Gov. Warren

P. Knowles would help qualify the flood-fighting communities for extra manpower to patrol levees, install sandbags where needed, and generally relieve the local volunteers who have been preparing defenses against high water for more than a month.

The National Guard had said it couldn't guarantee much extra manpower for the water fight without some sort of emergency declaration, the mayor said.

He said the State Highway Patrol and conservation wardens told him they might be able to provide 18 men to help watch the seven miles of levees erected in La Crosse. The city could use three times that number, Loveland said.

Knowles' proclamation for emergency aid eligibility applies to Crawford, La Crosse, Vernon, Trempealeau, Buffalo, Pierce, Pepin and Grant counties on the Mississippi.

It also applies to Dunn, Chippewa and Eau Claire counties, where tributaries are falling after having gotten little worse than flood stage, and to Ashland County on Lake Superior, but not to adjoining Iron County where the Montreal River has caused some minor inundation.

Knowles also included St. Croix County on the St. Croix River where Hudson officials reported their city is braced for the weekend flood crest. The St. Croix is to crest there Friday only a half foot higher than it was Tuesday.

A similar declaration in Washington by the Small Business Administration, applying to the Wisconsin counties and parts of four other states, clears the way for emergency financial aid.

Rep. Vernon Thompson,

R-Wis., whose district includes much of the flood-activity area, said Army Engineers have already spent $310,500 in southwestern Wisconsin.

Flood waters continued to crawl into traditionally water-prone 4th Ward neighborhoods of Prairie du Chien, whose Mayor Edward Farrell has already declared his Crawford County community of 6,000 residents to be in a state of emergency.

Farrell had issued two appeals to Knowles for a state-level declaration. But most of the Prairie du Chien families affected by high water have already moved in with relatives and friends, an almost annual trek for 4th Ward inhabitants.

The estimated $185,000 which La Crosse has invested in levees is expected to prevent $12 million damage. The levees are built to hold off the river up to an 18-foot level, and the weekend crest is expected to reach to only 16 feet.

Loveland, in fact, said his city needs extra manpower to patrol levees rather than build them. He said the patrols are needed as protection against leaks, and against tourists who inadvertently punch holes with their shoes in the plastic sheeting being used to cover the face of levees.

The only crisis-like excitement in La Crosse related to flooding was Monday night's rescue by Fire Department boats of four youths who got off their bicycles, slipped into flood waters and were washed downstream to an island.

In the depopulated 4th Ward of Prairie du Chien, two youngsters were seen Tuesday making a game of the inch-deep layer of water creeping into town.

They were using coffee cans to scrape up mud for a small levee, and an observer remarked it was the community's first dike.

Much of Prairie du Chien is too close to the river professional levee production to ever provide much defense against high water.

Disagreement on Matter of Another Big Spending Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democratic congressmen who collaborated last year to force a massive cut in federal spending differed today over whether a similar slash can be repeated. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas and George H. Mahon of Texas, the heads of two key House financial committees, also took different positions on President Nixon's claim that he has sharply cut former President Lyndon B. Johnson's budget and made possible a $5.8 billion surplus.

Mills, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, contended the Nixon budget represents an actual deficit in ordinary government operations.

He said Congress should consider a spending ceiling to force an additional $5 billion slash.

But Mahon, who heads the Appropriations Committee, said he is not sure how much more the budget can be reduced and added, "I would like to avoid a spending ceiling if I could."

As heads of the committees that act on revenue raising and spending, Mills and Mahon collaborated last year to force a mandatory $8 billion spending cut in exchange for granting Johnson's requested 10 percent income surtax.

Mills' committee, now working on general tax reform, plans to take time out soon to consider Nixon's recommendation that the surtax be continued for another year past its June 30 expiration date.

Mills would like to couple a spending cutoff to the extension. Mahon said his committee has not yet received enough information to be sure of the possibilities. But "there doesn't seem to be any likelihood that we will be able to make cuts of the magnitude of last year," he added.

He promised, however, the Appropriations Committee will be doing everything possible to bring the budget down.

The $5.8 billion surplus claimed by the Nixon administration, Mills said, is made possible only by lumping together the operations of government trust funds, such as the Social Security fund, with the ordinary operations of government.

The ordinary operations, which were budgeted separately in the past, Mills said, show a deficit of about $5.8 billion on the basis of the administration's own figures.

Mills spoke in a talk to be delivered for him at a businessmen's gathering in Searcy, Ark., and an amplifying interview.

Mahon said the budget Johnson left for his successor is generally considered, even by the present administration, to be substantially tighter than his earlier ones.

"The new administration is finding it difficult to recommend cuts of the severity of those made last year," he said.

Report Nixon Expects to Remove Taxation From Some

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — One of President Nixon's ultimate goals in tax reform is to remove taxation entirely from families below the poverty line, a top White House official has disclosed.

Economist Arthur F. Burns, considered Nixon's top adviser on domestic affairs, said the government regards income below $3,300 to be at the poverty level for a city family of four.

Burns said removing the tax burden from such families would be among the priority suggestions when the administration sends its complete tax-reform program to Congress, probably next January.

The over-all program was outlined to reporters Tuesday after Burns met for two hours with AFL-CIO officials whose closed-door, three-day economic conference with government aides ended today.

Burns said Nixon can be expected to follow up pending tax reform proposals—one bundle is due within the next week or so, another batch in June—by appointing a special presidential commission on taxes.

This commission will be instructed "to make a basic revision of the internal revenue code," said Burns, and to report its findings by December as the basis for presidential recommendations to the next session of Congress.

Nixon's pending reform proposals, Burns said, will include a plan for increased deductions to benefit lower-income taxpayers. The loss of revenue would be covered by the increase in revenues gleaned from the closing of loopholes and elimination of tax shelters used by wealthier taxpayers.

Burns' disclosures amounted to a substantial White House rebuttal of charges made in Congress and elsewhere that Nixon, now nearing his 100th day in office, has moved only halfheartedly in the direction of tax reform.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy, who also addressed the AFL-CIO leaders, assured them the administration is aiming for "meaningful" tax reform legislation in this session of Congress, but also needs the extension of the 10 per cent surtax to defeat inflation. Burns and Kennedy were among a parade of administration officials who conferred with AFL-CIO President George Meany and about 35 presidents of major affiliated unions at the Greenbrier Hotel.

The union leaders have refused to talk to reporters, but their concerns over Nixon policies are well known. One is that the present anti-inflation restraints may be so severe as to cause rising unemployment. Another is that Nixon's budget cuts may impede programs supported by labor to deal with the problems of slums, urban unemployment and welfare.

Like the other administration spokesmen, Kennedy assured the labor men that domestic programs will get more money in next year's budget than this year. As for unemployment, he said, it appears that the wage-price spiral can be flattened out "without a significant or substantial rise in unemployment."

Burns reported to newsmen that the labor leaders feel "very deep and very wide concern over the volume of imports arriving from 'cheap labor areas.'" He said he gathered that the unionists favored import quotas for protection.

Illegal Segregation Denied

FERNDALE, Mich. (AP) — All 363 pupils in U.S. Grant elementary school are Negro.

The federal Office of Education says it constitutes illegal segregation. The Ferndale School District, the first in the North to be threatened with loss of federal funds, agrees that it's segregation, but denies it's illegal.

The Office of Education issued an order Tuesday designed to force the integration of Grant pupils with about 4,100 children in nine other district elementary schools.

"We know there's segregation," Supt. John J. Houghton said, "but it's of a de facto nature. The school was built to meet an existing need and the population pattern that developed around it resulted in the fact that it is completely Negro today."

Leon E. Panetta, director of the Office of Education's civil rights office, said the segregation of Negro pupils in Grant started when the school was built in 1926 as a deliberate effort to establish and maintain a discriminatory policy.

The school is in Royal Oak Township. Aside from a small portion of Ferndale, it is the only area in the school district with a large concentration of Negroes.

The district — comprised of most of the city of Ferndale, Royal Oak, and parts of two adjacent cities—has a total of 8,170 students, 740 of them Negro.

Houghton said one other elementary school has 27 Negro pupils, and two others have one Negro pupil each. The remainder of the Negro pupils in the district attend the junior high school and the senior high school.

Burton Shifman, attorney for the district's school board, will meet with federal officials Monday to discuss the case.

"We have very little disagreement with the facts as the government presented them," he said. "We do disagree with the conclusion that the situation is deliberate."

Sheldon Hochman, president of the school board, said the district now receives $275,000 yearly in federal funds, including $140,000 used for a special education program at the Grant school.

Many residents of Royal Oak have indicated that they believe integration of the Grant school would be a welcome break in a pattern of dominantly Negro settlement that has developed in the township.

"Integration would at least alleviate the feeling of being separated there," said the Rev. Percy Dumas, a Negro pastor at St. Matthias Lutheran Church in the township.

leviate the feeling of being separated there," said the Rev. Percy Dumas, a Negro pastor at St. Matthias Lutheran Church in the township.

House Approves LeVander Budget

ST. PAUL (AP) — On a nearly straight party line vote, the House Tuesday approved Gov. Harold LeVander's budget—including a controversial plan to shift some state payments to local governments.

The "no major new taxes" budget will free up $100 million for use in the next biennium by shifting some state tax replacement payments from June to July.

Two DFL House members joined 81 Conservatives as the package sailed through on an 83-

47 vote. All the opposition came from DFLers.

Democratic Reps. Jack Kleinbaum, St. Cloud, and Sam Barr, Ortonville, supported the Conservatives as they had two years ago when the sales tax law was adopted.

In contrast to a two-hour wrangle Monday when the measure gained preliminary House approval, there was only brief debate Tuesday.

The bill changes from June to July, the date for payments to local governments which go to make up for tax cuts contained in the sales tax law. State funds are used to make up for the savings to individual taxpayers and business firms.

House Majority Leader Aubrey Dirlam called DFL opposition "incredible." Dirlam said DFLers were asking, in effect, for Minnesotans to dig up another $100 million in taxes while not producing another penny for either the state or for local governments.

Dirlam said the alternative is to raise taxes by $100 million merely to meet "a bookkeeping proposition."

DFL Leader Martin Sabo repeated earlier charges that the plan will result in a heavier demand for new taxes two years hence.

Meanwhile, bills were introduced in the House Tuesday to carry out the tax increases asked by LeVander to finance his budget.

They include a three-cent-a-pack increase in cigarette taxes, a 75-cent-a-gallon hike in the tax on liquor and most wines, and an extension of so-called "temporary" increases in income taxes enacted in past years.

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special). — A nominating committee elected by the Trempealeau County Unit of the American Cancer Society is comprised of Mrs. Terry Kolve, Eleva; Mrs. R. E. Anderson, Blair, and Bernard Wood, Frenchville, it was reported at the recent meeting of the society at Whitehall.

A balance in the treasury was reported at $1,016. The budget for county expenses was set at $1,395. William Thomas, Frenchville, president, heads the finance committee. The sum of $9 has been received in memorials.

A nurses' conference at Madison Friday will be attended by several nurses from the county. Transportation and registration will be financed by the county society.

Next meeting will be July 9 at Whitehall.

ATTEMPTS TO BAN DDT DEAD?

Pass Bill to Regulate Sale, Use of Pesticides

ST. PAUL (AP) — Passage of a bill Tuesday to regulate the sale and use of pesticides may have given the death blow to attempts to ban use of DDT.

Approved in the House and sent to the governor for his signature was a measure that allows the state commissioner of agriculture to set rules for the sale and use of various pesticides.

But it does not forbid use of DDT, which some scientists have urged—saying the chemical is a dangerous poison that could have far-reaching effects on man and his environment.

The agriculture commissioner could limit the use of pesticides to certain areas under the bill, so after adopting a list of such "restricted use" chemicals.

Members of the House Agriculture Committee have indicated they will not go along with a full ban on DDT—at least pending further study.

A related bill, now pending in the Senate after House passage, would set up an advisory body to assist the agriculture commissioner in controlling pesticide use.

The commissioner has the power to ban the use of DDT if there is evidence of such a need, says Rep. Ivan Stone of New Ulm, chairman of the Agriculture Committee.

The Education Committee also recommended for passage and sent to finance a bill to set up a teachers corps to help deprived and minority races. It calls on the State Board of Education to direct the corps in reaching youngsters in poverty areas of cities, Indian reservations, and other pockets of urban or rural poverty.

The program carries a $500,000 price tag for each fiscal year.

Sen. George Convensius, Cannon Falls, author of the bill, said college students could be used during summer programs, as well as accredited teachers. Human Rights Commissioner Frank Kent endorsed the plan, saying: "Young people need pride; if we help them with programs like this, there will be less need for departments like mine."

The Senate passed and sent to the governor a bill which broadens the types of annoying and obscene telephone calls that may be punished under state law. Whereas the law provides punishment as a misdemeanor for calls that "alarm or annoy," it is expanded to include calls that are lewd, lascivious, filthy, indecent, or annoying through ringing a party constantly or with anonymous type calls.

A bill to wipe out the liquor fair trade law for two years was amended in the Senate when it came up for preliminary approval. The rider provides that wholesalers must post a schedule of prices they charge with the state liquor commissioner, and abide by that list.

Purpose of the amendment, said its sponsor, Sen. Carl Jensen, Sleepy Eye, is to require that wholesalers sell at the same price to all retailers. The provision gained favor after some senators pointed out that it wasn't just the retail price set by the distributors that affected the price of liquor at the store.

The fair trade act says that distributors shall set the minimum retail price on liquor, but the law is widely ignored and not enforced. The bill comes up for debate and action later.

The Senate passed and sent to the governor a bill which enables the Minneapolis-St. Paul airport to sell liquor in restaurants on Sundays. Common carriers—meaning railroad dining cars for purposes of the law—also are extended Sunday liquor selling privileges. These were not covered in the measure passed two years ago.

The meat inspection bill was given final Senate approval and returned to the House for a minor amendment. The measure sets forth a broad inspection program that would have Minnesota conform with provisions of the federal law. The federal government would foot half of the $972,000 bill in the first biennium.

$155,000 Paid for Original Copy Of Constitution

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the eight remaining original copies of the U.S. Constitution has been sold for $155,000—reportedly the highest price ever for such a document.

Harry Kraus, a New York rare books dealer, bought the manuscript Tuesday at an auction at the Parke-Bernet Galleries.

The document was the personal copy of Pierce Butler, a delegate from South Carolina. It contains 40 pages of his notes, and may include the "missing Pinckney plan," a Parke-Bernet spokesman said. That plan, one of three considered by the Constitutional Convention, has never been found.

Three of the other seven copies are in the Library of Congress. The rest are in other public institutions.

Pier Disappears at Lake City

CURIOUS . . . James Marquardt, Ed Miller and Mark Begeler, Cochrane, look at water spreading from the drainage ditch below the dike south of the village. The dike prevents the backwater from Dam 5A pool from flooding Cochrane as it did in 1965. (Daily News photo)

The Mississippi River at Lake City was at a level of 20 feet at noon today, up .4 of a foot from Tuesday toward the predicted crest of 20.5 Friday. That will be almost two feet lower than in 1965.

Water is over the government pier; it has vanished from sight. It will be over Lake City point if it rises another half or three-quarters of a foot.

"We worry about the waves from the lake if a wind comes up," said a spokesman. Waves could damage the shorelines.

Wabasha

AT WABASHA, International Milling closed down Tuesday at 9 p.m., said Manager W. A. Palmen. It closed because freight service on the Milwaukee Railroad stopped Tuesday when the last load of flour went out.

Wabasha got its duck from the National Guard, Sgt. Clyde Fregin, who also was here in 1965, and Sp. 4 Dale Meyer picked up 24 children from Sand Prairie this morning, where roads were under water. They were picked up at their homes and taken to Greenfield school where a waiting bus took them to the public and parochial schools.

THE BEACH park dike was being lengthened 300 feet today to upper Lawrence Boulevard. It is 20 feet high. Sandbags will protect the dike.

James Bowman of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said the river was at 17.3 feet this morning, having risen one-half foot in the last 24 hours. He said a crest of 18 feet is expected Friday.

There was no water across Highway 61 below Wabasha yet; the sheriff's office said it was two feet from the road. The river was at 17 feet at the Alma dam, a rise of .4 of a foot from Tuesday. It's expected to be 17.2 Thursday, 17.4 Friday and to crest at 17.5 feet Saturday.

Only 2 Lanesboro Teachers Resign

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — Of the 35 teachers here, 33 have signed contracts for 1969-70.

All 13 elementary teachers including two in special education, will return next year. On the high school level Mrs. Laverne Sorenson, who teaches English and girls physical education, and Robert Wallace, who teaches social studies and coaches track and assists in basketball, have resigned.

Included in those returning are the superintendent, principal, counselor and a special education teacher. The employment of two teachers' aides and a variety of other personnel, including a janitor, will be discussed in the near future.

The schedule provides salaries of teachers with less than a four-year degree from $5,250 to $6,400. For a bachelor degree teacher salaries range $6,550 to $9,000 and for a master's degree, from $6,525 to $9,375.

Fringe benefits include a sick leave plan and $8 a month paid by the district for health insurance for each teacher who is a member of the group plan.

The teachers are obligated to teach 175 days, this figure not including workshop days, MEA convention days or any holidays.

another 6 to 8 inches higher by crest time Saturday.

Wally's Supper Club was keeping water out of its first floor by pumping from the basement. Some water was leaking in through the sandbags into the Fountain City Mutual Insurance Office on the east side of the street.

Water had crept some 10 feet up Liberty Street toward the post office. The corner at the Golden Frog still is open.

The only road open to Fountain City from the outside now is Highway 95 from the east — water is across Highway 35 both south and north of town.

Central Lutheran Men to Honor Church Teachers

The Christian Action Men of Central Lutheran Church will recognize the Sunday school teachers Thursday evening at a dinner banquet for their outstanding work and devotion in teaching the children and youths of the church.

A chicken dinner will be served in the church basement, starting at 6:30 p.m. Reservations must be made at the church office no later than 10:45 a.m. Thursday.

Glenn Carlson, assistant professor of education, Winona State College, will be master of ceremonies. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Jeno Weisz, Henrytown, Minn., a native of Hungary who studied in England. Special recognition will be given to Mrs. Harold Compton who has taught Sunday school at Central Lutheran more than 25 years.

Dresbach

Depth of the river at the Dresbach pool was 14.9 feet this morning.

Generally the mood of the river towns is calm waiting. They learned much about combating flooding in 1965 and have put their knowledge to use.

BOSTON (AP) — Dave Garroway, who headed NBC's "Today" show from its inception in 1952 until he quit in 1961, will be the host for a local 90-minute, daytime talk show on WNAE-TV, starting April 28.

Since leaving the "Today" show, Garroway, 55, has had several brief television assignments, including a 13-week science series for National Educational Television, and a brief tour as host of a late-night ABC show "Nightlife." He will be moving here with his family for his new assignment.

Gatch, whose accounts of hunger and malnutrition among the residents led to a Congressional hearing said he evidently contracted the parasites from others. He said the nutritional trouble stemmed from failure to watch his diet.

HIGHWAY 35 CLOSED . . . The Wisconsin Highway Department closed a stretch about a mile north of Fountain City at 8 a.m. today and, later this morning, a section near the Midway Tavern between Winona and Fountain City. Result: No school at Cochrane-Fountain City beginning today—and the road officially closed from Winona to Highway 88 above Fountain City. Allen George and Clarence Kennebeck put up the high water sign and the flares. (Daily News photo)

FORD MAVERICK $1995*

(You don't have to read it all—but it's nice to know it's all there.)

Most new cars look like other cars. But when the word gets out that something really different is on the way, rumors run wild. Few cars have caused as much talk as Maverick. Ford's new entry in the small car field rivals the economy imports in price . . . but tops them in power, performance, passenger room and luggage capacity. We've been bombarded with questions about Maverick. Now, for the first time, here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?

A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?

A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A Maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compacts and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?

A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?

A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric wipers. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls. . . Important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?

A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semi-automatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?

A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you'll get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?

A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a retired bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.

Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?

A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.6 feet) than the leading economy import (36.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a hallback. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 5 1/2 feet to any parking space.

Q. Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?

A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. Then all that strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Result: one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 100,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)

Q. How about parts and service?

A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.

Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?

A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every 36,000 miles. The leading economy import recommends oil changes every 3,000 miles (twice as often as Maverick) and chassis lubrication every 6,000 miles (six times as often as Maverick). Those are just a few examples of the many ways Maverick lessens inconvenience and lowers operating cost.

Q. Can I do my own maintenance work?

A. Yes, if you have an average amount of mechanical ability. The Maverick owner's manual contains 24 pages of detailed diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You'll find it easy to change spark plugs, replace ignition points . . . plus many other do-it-yourself repairs and replacements.

Q. Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?

A. This small car incorporates the latest advances in engineering. Maverick's brakes are as big as a standard compact's—designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. Maverick gives you weight . . . power . . . stability. Designed for American driving conditions.

Q. How does Maverick ride?

A. Here's where Maverick's longer, wider stance really pays off. You get a smoother, quieter ride. Maverick's tight, strong, unitized body helps eliminate squeaks and rattles. Special insulation blocks out road noise. The people who brought you a Ford that was quieter than a Rolls-Royce now bring you a small car that doesn't sound like a power mower.

Q. Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?

A. Slower depreciation is one money-in-the-pocket advantage. Maverick's 1970 model designation means it keeps its trade-in value higher, longer. (Maverick is built to be a good investment from the minute you buy it to the minute you sell it.)

Better come take a look at this one. You'll find it where the action is . . . right in there with other great Ford values like specially equipped Ford Galaxie 500's . . . Fairlanes . . . Mustangs and Falcons.

You'll find them at your Ford Dealer's . . . the place you've got to go to see what's going on.

For an authentic 1/25 scale model of the new Ford Maverick, send $1.00 to Maverick, P.O. Box 5397, Department N-50, Detroit, Michigan 48211. (Offer ends July 31, 1969.)

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for the car. Price does not include: white sidewall tires, $32.00; dealer preparation charge, if any; transportation charges, state and local taxes.

Urban Renewal Plans Told To Chautauqua

Plans for the redevelopment of downtown Winona were discussed by Robert Ferluga, director of urban renewal, Monday when Chautauqua Club met at the home of Mrs. Harry Meyers.

Displaying large maps of the downtown district, he pointed out tentative projects planned for renewal.

"IN A 1965 survey of the central business district it was found that three-fourths of the buildings were deteriorating, many beyond repair," he stated. He then showed photographs of present downtown Winona "as others see us." "A series of projects is being planned to improve this condition," he said. He explained that a ring of parking lots has already been started around the central mall.

Discussing the financial aspect he stated, "It is expected that the bonds needed for financing these projects can be paid off by the higher tax returns."

In answer to a question he said, "I would not be honest if I said it would not be an inconvenience or expense to some small businessmen but to most it will be an opportunity to expand."

Mrs. Robert Horton introduced the speaker.

OFFICERS elected on nomination of Mrs. A. J. Anderson, chairman of the nominating committee: The Mmes. P. A. Mattison, president; J. L. Januschka, vice president; Walker R. Family Life Is W-K PTA Topic Family life education was the topic at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting at the Washington-Kosciusko School, Monday evening.

Leading the discussion were Victor Gislason, committee chairman, and Mrs. Gary Grendahl, school nurse. Gislason spoke of the newer programs which are set up on a kindergarten through 12th grade basis. He said that the family life program would act as a supplement to the role of the home and the church.

The committee is engaged in a study of materials that might be included in such a program. A filmstrip was shown that might be used in an integrated plan. The plan would try to promote the understanding of the relationships to each other and of themselves. In-service training of the teacher might be one of the first necessary steps.

Mrs. Grendahl told of curriculums of other schools in this area. A discussion followed. Mrs. Richard Baylon, city PTA council president, installed the following officers: Jack Cornwell, president; Vernell Jackels, vice president; Mrs. Jan Kreuzer, secretary, and Vincent Frillic, treasurer.

It was announced that the group will once again be the recipient of the gold leaf award for having achieved the greatest increase in membership. Teachers were presented a gift from the PTA in appreciation of their work.

He Uses 'Extra' Money to Protest Tax System

SEATTLE (AP) — Mervin Bailey of Seattle says he had just about enough money left in his bank account after completing his income tax return to pay for his own protest system against taxes.

Bailey hired a sky-writing service Tuesday to fly his message over the state capitol building in Olympia.

"Stop spending—cut taxes" his message read.

Bailey, vice-president of Craftsman Press Inc. said his message ordinarily would have cost twice as much as the $250 he paid.

But Arthur Bell, owner of the flying service, decided to "get in the act himself," Bailey said, and cut the fee in half.

Psychologist Named for Public Schools

Employment of a psychologist to serve schools of District 861 was authorized Monday night by the Winona School Board.

The board has been considering employment of a psychologist — anticipating the closing at the end of this school year of the Psychological Services Center based at Winona State College — and Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson told directors Monday he had contacted a candidate.

He is Ronald Fitch, who has been associated with the center during the period it has been operated as a federally-financed project providing services for participating area schools.

Fitch was hired at a salary of $14,000 for a 39-week regular school work year and three weeks additional.

Informal approval was given a request by Donald Glover, Winona, for the rental of gymnasium facilities at Jefferson School for certain periods this summer for a special children's physical education program he plans to sponsor.

Directors were told that Glover plans to offer the program on a tuition basis.

Board to Study Bills For Parochial Schools

Reluctant to assume an active role in the controversy over presently proposed legislation for state financial support for non-public school programs, the Winona School Board Monday night expressed sympathy for the private and parochial schools in a time of financial crisis and agreed to study the situation to determine what, if any, position it might take in support of church-related schools in the community.

A five-member delegation representing the Citizens for Educational Freedom and two parochial school boards met with school directors to ask whether the Winona board would request the Minnesota School Boards Association (MSBA) to lend its lobbying support to bills now before the legislature proposing tuition reimbursement to parents for costs to church-related schools for secular education, transportation aids for children attending church-related schools and reimbursement to local public school districts for shared-time or dual-enrollment programs of referred students in church-related schools.

DISCUSSING the issues with school directors were James Campbell, St. Martin's Lutheran School Board; Richard Guenther, St. Stanislaus Catholic School Board; and John Tlougan, Matt Vetter and George Hittner, representing Citizens for Educational Freedom (CEF).

Campbell opened the delegation's presentation by commending the Winona board for "the fine cooperation enjoyed by private and parochial schools through the shared time program and others which have gone on so marvelously well. Through continued dialogue as partners in education we can achieve the best product for the future education of our children."

He asserted that the closing of these schools would present additional burdens to the taxpayers and "be detrimental to the whole process."

CAMPBELL noted that the MSBA is now lobbying against the bills and said he did not feel "this represents the feelings and sympathies of the people of Winona."

He asked that the School Board adopt a resolution Monday night, "in the interest of the people, requesting the association to support rather than oppose the bills, especially the tuition reimbursement bill."

Hittner then reviewed the financial contributions made by parents of children attending Winona private and parochial schools to the independent district if it were required to provide total educational services for the 2,325 students now attending church-related schools here.

TLOUGAN acknowledged "lobbying done against us this year is much more mild than in previous years. To be very honest, Mr. Wettergren (executive secretary of the MSBA) has been very helpful to us. He's helped us write bills so they'd be administratively feasible. My feeling is that the lobbying that's being done is more a part of natural action than real opposition."

Board President Frank J. Allen questioned the propriety of the Winona Board taking a position intended to influence the legislature. He commented, however, "You surely are aware that this board not only has more than just sympathy with your cause; we feel fortunate in having the type of parochial schools we have and know that they have worked to the advantage of the Winona taxpayers."

HE SAID that he was not sure that the school boards association was enthusiastic about lobbying against the legislation and that he felt that the association might "actually just be waiting for" some action like that proposed for the Winona School Board to be taken.

Tlougan said that the delegation felt that any resolution that might be drafted by the board should relate only to the Winona situation.

ALLEN SAID that he and 4th District Director Daniel Sadowski and Superintendent of Schools A. L. Nelson would confer with MSBA officials to determine exactly what the MSBA position is on the bills—in the interest of time perhaps by telephone—and submit a recommendation for action.

Citizen Asks Resignation of School Board

A request that members of the Winona School Board who were serving as school directors at the time contracts were awarded for construction of the new Winona Senior High School building resign their posts was submitted Monday night to the board.

The action was asked by Mrs. Martin A. Beatty, 58 W. Howard St., in a four-page letter to the board in which she charged the five incumbents with being "irresponsible, unbusinesslike, extravagant and lacking in concern to protect the public."

SPECIFICALLY involved are board President Frank J. Allen, Dr. L. L. Korda, Dr. C. W. Rogers, Dr. C. R. Kollofski and Daniel Sadowski, all of whom were members of the nine-member board of Winona's Special School District when contracts for the building were awarded in 1965.

All since were elected as directors following the reorganization of the district with independent status.

Excepted from the request for resignations was Kenneth P. Nelson, appointed last fall as director from the 1st District to fill a vacancy, who, Mrs. Beatty noted, "was not a member during the construction of the Senior High School."

SUPT. of Schools A. L. Nelson presented copies of the letter to each board member, noting that it had been received Monday and there had been no opportunity to study its contents for possible answers to points raised.

After board members had read the letter Nelson asked Mrs. Beatty whether she wished for an answer to the letter.

She replied, "The answer I hope for is the granting of the request I make," apparently referring to her request for resignations.

The only direct comment was made by Allen who turned to Mrs. Beatty and said that he,

Jefferson, JHS Remodeling OKed

Authorization for buildings and grounds improvements for several schools in District 861 this summer was voted Monday night by the School Board.

The board authorized the administration to go ahead with plans for remodeling at Jefferson School to provide classroom areas for an expected expanded enrollment.

THE PROJECT would involve, among other things, the moving of the school lunchroom to the basement to provide additional classroom space, conversion of the former home economics area into classrooms, expansion of the library and improvement of existing classrooms.

Also approved was the proposed blacktopping of a portion of the Minnesota City School playground and reseeding of another area.

Old library shelving at Madison School, where new shelves are being installed, will be used to construct bookcases for use in several schools.

SUPT. of Schools A. L. Nelson said that plans and specifications now have been completed for the remodeling of the Winona Junior High School building and that bids will be received in May.

Work involves floor coverings and acoustical treatment of ceilings in hallways, installation of new lockers and stairway enclosure.

The board granted Paul W. Sanders, school business manager, permission to attend the annual convention of the Association of School Business Officials of the United States and Canada at Phoenix, Ariz., in October.

The request for an audit of school records by the state Public Examiner's office was drafted.

A request from the Winona Swim Club for use of the Senior High School Pool this summer was approved.

Eleva Boy Gets Award for Saving Sisters

ELEVA, Wis. — A 10-year-old Eleva boy received an award at the Governor's Conference on Children and Youth at Madison Friday.

Mark Heath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Heath, was honored for saving the lives of three sisters, 2, 3 and 5, when fire started behind a dryer in a utility room Jan. 12, 1968, in the rural farm home.

Finding doors barred with intense smoke, Mark broke a window and dropped the three girls in a snow bank. When he found it impossible to get into the room for a fourth child, he jumped through the window to try to reach her from outside, but the casement was too high. Although cut from broken glass and in his night clothes, he carried his sisters to the barn to keep them warm. He worked in darkness as it was near midnight when the fire broke out.

He was nominated for the award by a teacher, high school principal, American Legion and the Woman's Club. He has been recommended to the U.S. Attorney General for bravery.

There was at least one candidate for each School Board office on the ballot for the May 20 Independent District 861 election this morning following the filing of Daniel S. Sadowski, 571 E. Broadway, for re-election as 4th District director.

Harmony Places Two Speakers in State Contest

HARMONY, Minn. — This is the first year in the history of Harmony High School that two students are advancing from regional to the state speech contest.

Danette Tamm and John Aase will enter state competition April 26 in Minneapolis. The last time Harmony had an entry in the state speech contest was in 1963 when Erna Carlson, a foreign exchange student, won at regional.

Danette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Tamm, received a top rating for her original oration on gun control at the regional event at Waseca Saturday. John, son of Supt. and Mrs. Harold Aase, received top rating for his extemporaneous speech on "The U.S. Space Program: Past, Present and Future." Last year John also received A for extemporaneous speaking and was an alternate to state.

Hitless Hawks Take Second Straight, 4-3 Over Logan

Plante Ties Playoff Mark For Shutouts

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Jacques Plante, one of hockey's elder statesmen, has a keen memory about goals and goalsies, shutouts and near misses.

It was those memories that set Plante thinking nervously during the last five minutes of the St. Louis Blues' 4-0 victory over the Los Angeles Kings Tuesday night.

The victory gave the Blues a 1-0 lead in the best-of-7 National Hockey League West Division finals. The teams play again Thursday night in St. Louis.

The winner of the series plays the winner of the Montreal-Boston East Division finals. Montreal leads the best-of-7 series 2-0 with the third game in Boston Thursday night.

Plante was thinking about famed goalie Turk Broda's career record of 13 shutouts in the playoffs. The 40-year-old Plante never expected to tie that record, but he did Tuesday night.

"I never thought I'd have one shutout in this league," Plante said, "never mind 13 in the playoffs, especially after being out of the league three years."

Plante had gone into retirement after playing with Montreal and New York, but came out this year to join the Blues. He and another olderster, 37-year-old Glenn Hall, forged the best goal-tending average in the league this year.

So there Plante was, two shutouts already to his credit in the semifinals series against Philadelphia, and a third recording one starting him in the face.

"I started to think about it with about five minutes to go Plante said. 'I got a little more nervous.'

"I remember I lost four shutouts this year with less than four minutes to go, a couple with seconds to go."

Red Berenson was thinking along more immediate lines. He, too, had tied a record by scoring a three-goal hat trick in the second period. He became only the fourth man to bunch three goals into one period in a playoff game.

The middle goal was on an unassisted power play.

Kings' Coach Red Kelly only complained, "We weren't moving, weren't skating. You can't do anything standing still."

'HOW'S YOUR FAMILY, UMP'

Coy Martin Wins Again

SEATTLE (AP) — Minnesota Manager Billy Martin is a coy fellow.

Tuesday his Twins were leading 5-4 in the bottom of the ninth against Oakland.

With men on first and second and two runs already in, Umpire Jerry Neudecker called some close pitches by the Twins' Ron Perranoski as balls on pinch hitter Ted Kubiak.

Martin ran out to the mound as if to talk to Perranoski, but got into a big argument with Neudecker.

"I wanted to go out and talk to the umpire," said Martin. "And I figured that was the only way I could do it without getting thrown out of the game."

"I thought we needed to talk about those balls he was calling. If I went to talk to him, I'd get the thumb."

"He said, 'Are you taking him (Perranoski) out?' I said, 'No, I'm here to talk to you.'"

"He said, 'Then you can't be out here.' I asked him how his family was and left."

Kubiak eventually walked but Perranoski managed to get Bert Campaneris to force out Kubiak to end the game.

The triumph was Minnesota's second in six games, and the second straight by a 5-4 margin.

In the Four-City loop at Hal-Rod Lanes Dick Magin got the only honor count, sparking Bell's Bar to 2,904 with his 212-604. Dick Wessel fired 234 to spur Mike's Fine Foods to 1,001.

Meanwhile red hot Bill Bonow slammed a 227-603 errorless for Dutchman's in the National league at Westgate. Daily News jolted 1,040-2,660, and Denny Dorsch had a 532 errorless.

Ruth Lilla led the distaff side with her 213-580 for Golden Frog in the Ladies City league at Hal-Rod. Team honors went to Grulkowski Beauty Shop and Holiday Inn with 947 and 2,678, respectively.

Other 500s were recorded by: Helen Nelson 557, Marlene Anderson 544, Helen Englerth 538, Dorothy Beynon 536, Ruth Novotny 527, Elsie Dorsch 519, Betty Englerth 517, Annette Wiczorek 516, Ramona Hildebrandt 514 and Mona Maliszewski 500. Nancy Williamson had a 186 all-spare game.

Indians Cop First AL Win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota Manager Billy Martin went out of his way not to talk to Ron Perranoski and the ace reliever responded with a silent treatment of his own.

The Twins managed to hang on to a 5-4 victory over Oakland Tuesday but not before the A's rallied for two ninth-inning runs and had runners at first and second with two men out.

In other American League games, Cleveland won its first game after five consecutive defeats, 3-2 over Detroit in 10 innings. New York slammed Washington 8-2 and Baltimore dropped Boston 10-5. Chicago, Kansas City, Seattle and California were not scheduled.

Minnesota got homers from Rich Reese, Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva but a ninth-inning run-scoring single by Oliva proved the winner. Killebrew's blast was the 39th of his career.

Jose Cardenas's sacrifice fly scored Max Alvis in the 10th inning for the Indians' first victory. Alvis singled with one out and moved to third on pinchhitter Cap Peterson's hit before Cardenas lifted his fly to right.

Willie Horton had a homer for the Tigers and Jose Azcue rapped one for Cleveland.

Bobby Murcer cracked a single, double and home run, driving in four runs as the Yankees overpowered Washington in New York's home opener before a crowd of 13,989.

Rookie centerfielder Jerry Kenney put the Yanks ahead to stay 3-2 with a run-scoring sin-

Get Winning Run On Balk in 7th

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

It was so dark at Midget Field in Lake Park that you could barely see the ball, but there was still enough light available to see La Crosse Logan pitcher Dan Colgan start into his windup and then stop as Perry Henderson broke for home plate.

"Balk!" bellowed Winona High coach Ed Spencer, coaching third base.

"Balk!" agreed the umpire.

And Henderson trotted home with the winning run as Winona High's baseball team made it two wins in two days over La Crosse opposition, this time by 4-3 over Logan.

THE HAWKS won Tuesday's game, which was completed just a few minutes before 7 p.m., approximately the way they had captured Monday's 1-0 season-opening victory over La Crosse Central — without the benefit of hitting.

Winona managed only two hits at Midget Field Tuesday (the game was moved from Jefferson Field because of wet grounds) while Logan was hanging out six, but when the Hawks got runners on base in other fashions, they made them count.

The winning run crossed the plate in the bottom of the seventh without benefit of a hit as had a sixth-inning run.

Hawkins Keeps Pipers Alive

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota had some trouble keeping up with Indiana and Dallas, but they all stood even today after adding three more games to the American Basketball Association playoffs.

The Pacers had to break a 96-all tie with two minutes left before beating visiting Miami 105-100 Tuesday night to even their best-of-7 Eastern Division semifinal series.

Indiana and Dallas, however, easily pulled ahead of Kentucky and New Orleans in their best-of-7 division semis. The Pacers routed Kentucky 107-89 at Louisville and the Chaparrals clobbered New Orleans 130-118 at Dallas.

Before the three got a chance to win their sets, Oakland and Denver, also tied 3-3, will decide their Western Division semi-to-night at Oakland.

On Thursday night, Indiana will host Kentucky to decide their Eastern series and Dallas travels to New Orleans for their West seventh game.

Minnesota and Miami must wait until Saturday night at Miami.

Connie Hawkins, who scored 35 points, broke the Minnesota deadlock with a basket that put the Pipers ahead to stay. His three-point play later helped to clinch the victory after Miami had overcome a 60-47 halftime deficit.

Indiana took a 59-48 lead and never let up as Roger Brown scored 25 points and Fred Lewis 22 while holding Kentucky's Darrel Carrier to 11. Louie Dampier had 27 for the Colonels.

Dallas, hitting 64 per cent from the field, surged into a 61-43 lead in the first half, which was marked by a fight that re-

Rommies Sparks Caledonia Win

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Al Rommes, who had beaten Lewiston 6-0 with a one-hit shutout last weekend, ignited the tying rally and then was credited with the victory Tuesday as Caledonia edged Mabel-Canton 3-2 in extra innings for the Warriors' second win of the season.

Mabel-Canton scored single runs in each of the first two innings and hurler Craig Anderson made them stand up until Rommes, pinch-hitting for Caledonia's starting pitcher Steve Birkeland, singled to lead off the bottom of the seventh. Bill Albert followed with a long triple, and Mick Sheehan lashed a single to score Albert and tie the game.

Rommies set the Cougars down in order in the eighth, and Bruce Arnold's double and a Mabel-Canton error provided the winning Caledonia run in the bottom of the innings.

Both Anderson and Birkeland struck out nine, while Albert had a single to go with his triple.

Taylor Little League Benefit a Success

TAYLOR, Wis. (Special) — The Little League benefit Friday night at Taylor High School was a success. Highlight of the evening was the old-timers' basketball game in which the village boys defeated the country fellows 30-21.

THE RANGERS tied it in the sixth on a two-out walk and Tom Olson's two-bagger, and then regained the tie in the seventh when Colgan singled and was sacrificed to second. With Domke at the plate Caledonia took off for third and was apparently a dead duck, but Czaplewski took something off his throw and it sailed over Sauer's head, enabling Colgan to score. Holmy walked the next two batters before Bauer came on to get the final two outs.

Wabasha County Planners Name Beyer Chairman

WABASHA, Minn. — The recreation committee of the Wabasha County Planning Commission has elected Norton Beyer, Hammond, president; Emil Funke, Thiefman, vice president; and Dave Anderson, Lake City, secretary.

The committee advises the commission on recreational development and tries to draw together all recreation enterprises within the county so they will be working toward a common goal for the benefit of the people.

The commission will meet April 24 to continue its discussion on a land use plan for the county and the ordinance for the development of resources in the county.

The commission is studying public utilities, transportation facilities and the economic, natural, human, outdoor recreation resources, current land uses and projections for growth leading up to a comprehensive use plan and a zoning ordinance that will be passed by the County Board.

The ordinance will help prevent undesirable and haphazard development by specifying districts for certain types of land use plus specifications on lot size, setback of buildings, size of yards, building heights and dimensions, billboards, etc.

After the zoning ordinance is passed a board of adjustment will be appointed by the County Board to consider requests from citizens for adjustments in it.
